

Prof. Mark Macklin

Professor of Physical Geography

Director, Centre for Catchment and Coastal Research, Institute of Geography and Earth Sciences, Aberystwyth University

Mark is a world expert on river responses to climate change and is Director of the Fluvioenvironmental consultancy. He has held Visiting Professorships at the University of Utrecht; Massey University, New Zealand; Department of Hydrology and Water Resources, University of Arizona; Bulgarian Academy of Sciences; University of Indiana and University of Wisconsin.

Mark is an advisor to the Research Council for Norway; Portuguese Foundation for Science and Technology, and was appointed by the Environment Minister of the Welsh Assembly Government to Flood Risk Management Wales Executive Committee. He is on the UK National Commission for UNESCO and was on the Natural Sciences Committee between 2004-9.

Mark publications rank: google scholar, scopus